

Kent Libraries

How libraries can help –

Families with children with additional needs

available

Family friendly libraries with space for families to relax and enjoy the many services

A fantastic selection of books and other material for children and their parents/ carers including: Bag Books (multi-sensory stories for children with profound disabilities), storybags, Barrington Stoke books for children with dyslexia, BSL signed children's books, Makaton, large print and touchy feely books, audio books to listen to as well (all free). DVDs to borrow too (charge applies)

Can't find the book you want? Order books and other items via our online catalogue, for delivery to any Kent library you choose (free for all Kent items – charges apply for out of county books)

Free computer access in all of our libraries (under 11s need parental permission to use the internet)

Advice for parents/carers on books for their children, plus a wide selection of books and other resources on parenting in our Parent and Carer collections, including books on different situations eg bullying or divorce

Our website kent.gov.uk/libs has all sorts of useful information — check your library card, renew books online, browse through the library catalogue, and find library addresses and opening times
